

About Joe...

"Light, not objects, is the source of color!"

Isaac Newton, 16th Century

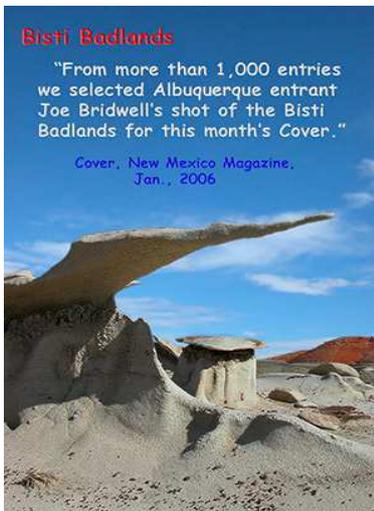

Nature photography is all about capturing dynamic light at Magic Hour! Naturally, you want to know 'What is dynamic light?'

At dawn or dusk, light passes through miles of atmosphere. Whether direct or reflected, such light takes on atmospheric qualities. Light paints nature in dramatic, vivid colors. A nature shooter, I find capturing dynamic light is an enchanting process of waiting for just that moment in light's rapid change at dawn or dusk to make a captivating landscape spectacular.

We lead Digital Photography Adventure Tours to Four Corners of sw US...

Vermilion Cliffs ~ Shoot ancient Pangaean dunes (The Wave and White Pocket)

You might think
"What an adventurous shooter...!"

Bisti Adventures ~
Step onto Mars
and Shoot Surreal
Hoodoo Shapes

Anasazi Adventures ~ Photograph Anasazi Ruins in Natural

Nope, just a cute, very happy little girl whose father carried her into The Wave on his back...

Typical Adventure Tour

When you start with a camera and end up with an award-winning image - a lot of learning, careful thought, and deep emotion goes into this intricate process.

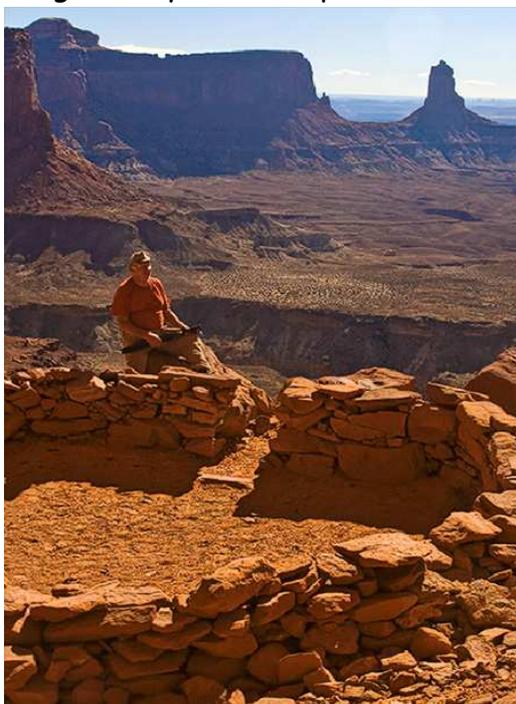

We take you into wilderness, help you compose, talk about the best light, even tell you the History and Heritage of each region...

When Light is NOT Right, we show you how to gather high dynamic range images (FRHDR - Full Range HDR) and panoramas, quickly process, then display in such enduring collections as Keepers, Fine Art, and Competitions!

We present full Lightroom 3 and Photoshop CS4 Workshops for the digital darkroom side of this challenging equation.

Paths of Light is a book which illustrates light's transition from dawn to dusk. Many of these images come from the Four Corners area, Southwestern United States.

We provide three venues to help you explore Paths of Light. We show you the image; many won competition awards. We describe the challenge, excitement, and emotion of each capture. Finally, we discuss technical aspects from capture to competition display of our digital darkroom adventure.

Come with Joe; Joe enjoys bringing exciting Natural History and a talented photographer's eye to Digital Wilderness Tours. The Four Corners Region has huge dunes created when we were only one continent (Pangaea), ancient rainforests, dinosaurs, Anasazi civilizations, magnificent archeological ruins in remote, protected canyon heads, and scarred remnants of relatively recent volcanic explosions.
